WASHINGTON, D. C. TERMS:

Address
THE WASHINGTON CRITIC,

RICHARD H. SYLVESTER, - - Editor WASHINGTON, MAY 24, 1886.

The Washington Critic has received in the past several weeks and is nov daily receiving more than treble the number of new bonafide subscribers

Washington, and in excess of all the other daily papers here added to-gether. Our subscription books are open to the inspection of all persons OUR NATIONAL DEFENSES.

The Nipsic having made a success ful voyage from South America to New York, Congress, in all probabillity, will hardly think it worth while to do much of anything more towards building up a new navy. At least it begins to look that way. In the estimation of many statesmen our navy is well enough as it is. As for coast defenses, what's the use of them so long as we are at peace with all the world?

This optimistic view of the situation speaks well for the confidence of Congress in the ability of the State Department to keep the country free of dangerous foreign complications; and it also argues a happy faculty of worming out of disagreeable entanglements on the part of the American people. The theory that such will always be the condition of affairs and that emergencies will never arise in which the United States will feel the need of some further protection against invasion than the Nipsic and Fort Foote, is, however, somewhat strained and untenable. Of course, as long as we stand ready to submit the arbitation of our differences with England to the British Minister, and of our misunderstandings with China to the Chinese Minister, and our fallings out with Bismarck to the German Minister, and so on, there is no particular danger. In fact, it would be quite as well to disband the army altogether and call in the rest of the navy to be condemuel with the Powbatan.

But there are indications that Mr. Cleveland's administration is to have a foreign policy of its own as far from the dilettante diplomacy of its predecessor on the one hand as from the jingoism of Mr. Blaine on the other. The letter of Secretary Bayard to Senator Frye gives abundant evidence of this. It shows conclusively that the Government, instead of being napping all this time, has been very diligent and active in asserting the rights of American fishermen in Canadian waters, and that the honor of the country will be safe in its hands. It is fair to assume that in all its foreign relations the Administration will be found equally alive to its duty and careful in maintaining the interests of the people whom it represents. But Congress should understand that the vigorous foreign policy thus foreshadowed may some of these days need vigorous backing up both by land and sea. The Executive branch of the Government must be supported by the Legislative, or the people will know where the responsibility belongs in case the navy is ever called on and is found wanting. This is a matter of too much consequence to be slurred over and dilly-dallied with. The reconstruction of the navy upon a liberal scale and the question of coast defences overtop in importance all others now before Con-

THE Chicago Mail notes as one result of the recent Anarchist outbreak in that city, the abandonment of red as an advertising color. A baker, who had made a hit out of his red-flag placards, changed from red to blue the morning after the Haymarket explosion. A tobacco man, who floated a red flag, hauled it down and ran up the stars and stripes. Red is no longer a popular color in Chicago bunting, or with Chicago bill-posters. Although the Anarchists, however, have taken in their sign, it is not so certain that they have gone entirely out of business They will still bear watching, not only in Chicago, but everywhere else.

THE officers of the Washington Gaslight Company admit that the books of the company for the first eighteen years of its existence were kept so badly that they were found to be of no use and were sold for old junk. So that all anybody knows of the history of these eighteen years is entirely a matter of tradition. It will strike the ordinary business mind that the company furnishes in itself the most cogent and conclusive argument that has yet been adduced for legislating it out of existence and turning over its affairs to a bureau which shall comprise expert bookkeepers as well as expert gas-makers.

DR. PIERCE, the brother-in-law of the late Vice-President Hendricks, is said to have been entrusted with the awful secret. He got it at the White House and out of the President's own mouth, that the marriage was a fixed fact and that it will take place on the 16th of June. Colonel Lamont says that the story is all bosh. The inference is that somebody's been lying on Where's Dr. this solemn subject. Pierce? Where's the mendacious correspondent? Where's the police?

Whither are we drifting? GENERAL DURBIN WARD, who died at Lebanon, Ohio, on Saturday, was a historic character, though much too firmly set in his honest ways to be a successfu politician. More than forty years ago he was the law partner of Tom Corwin. He was a Douglas Democrat of the most pronounced order, and when | yet sppear.

WASHINGTON CRITIC | the war broke out he was the first man in his district to step into the ranks as a private soldler. His subsequent career in the army was full of honor, and he came out of the war a brigadier general. For ome years afterward be resided in Washington, and on returning to Ohio became an active Democratic partisan, frequently denying his own just claims to recognition that the harmony of the party might be promoted His life was full of sacrifices thus made and in his later years he came fully to understand the ingratitude and mercenary selfishness of an organization that he was so well qualified to lead. He was truly one of the Old Guard-incorruptible, fearless and sincere.

It is stated by the New York Herald that in some of the wards of that city there is a population of 200,000 people to the square mile, which is considerably more than in the worst districts of London. The difficulty of enforcing proper sanitary regulations among human beings thus unwholesomely packed together can be readily under stood. The difficulty is as great as the necessity. That the health authorities are able to cope with it as successfully as they do is a constant wonder and speaks well for the progress of sanitary science. THE Memorial day services at the omb of General Grant are to be on an elaborate scale, and will possess many interesting features. The committee n charge of the arrangements asked each State to send something to be placed on the tomb, and all except New Jersey have responded. These tributes consist of plants and wreaths, and with doubtless make a very interesting collection. The services will be attended by the President, several Members of the Cabinet and a large number of other prominent people.

Possibly Mr. Wilber's compound testimony in the Pan-Electric investigation was the result of the new discovery by the Bells. It would be an easy thing to photograph Mr. Wilber's mental processes and confront him with the truth, however much he might desire to lie. Now all that is necessary is to invent a machine which will distinguish truth from falsehood and the world will be a thousand years ahead at one step.

THE question now agitating the local politics of New York is who shall be vice president of the Common Council and Alderman from the Fifth Assembly District, to succeed Mr. Jachne, temporarily removed to Sing Sing. Mr. Jachne was what is known as a County Democrat, and the combination which has resulted so disastrously was be tween County Democrats and Republicans. Tammany was not in the deal.

COLONEL GEORGE W. HOOKER O Vermont says of Senator Edmund that he is "the greatest statesman in America, contemporary with Gladston and Bismarck." The ex-Sergeant-at-Arms of the House is nothing if not loval, but certainly no one can dispute the latter half of his proposition, that the Vermont Senator is contemporary with Bismarck and Gladstone. Jedge Waxem enjoys the same honor.

ALL of the leading citizens of Tomb stone, Arizona, have petitioned Congress to pass the bill introduced by Mr. Bean, which provides for the offering of a reward for the bloody Geronimo, dead or alive. There would seem to be no objection to the passage of the bill, out on the contrary, many strong arguments in its favor.

THE CHITTE's original suggestion for a Government bridge across the Poto mac seems not to have been wasted on the desert air. Mr. Sherman's resolution introduced and adopted in the Senate to day provides for a report and estimates by the Secretary of War.

THE city of Springfield, Mass., will devote to-morrow and next day to'a celebration of its 250th auniversary, yet President Cleveland, somehow or other, cannot be made to believe that the town is old enough to be a port of entry.

THE story now is that Mr. Blaine has given up the idea of seeking a renomination for the Presidency, and desires to run for Secretary of State in John Sherman's Cabinet. This sounds like a Canadian fish story.

Dr. Bell's discovery of a voice in the water can be used as a temperance campaign document, and may be considered as a Presidential boom for Senator Colquitt.

According to late advices from Buffalo the will of the late Colonel Folsom of Folsemdale disposes of about $400,000 in eight equal shares, naming the widows of his two sons and his six grandchildren. This will was made in 1881 and is the only one known of. Whether, in view of the distinguished matrimontal honors that are alleged to be waiting upon Miss Frankie Folsom, who was likewise grandfather's pet, any different testament of the property has since been made in her special favor does not yet appear. "Dinner a la corte?" said the wafter ton raw Congressman in a restaurant. "Of course not. I'm no hog, Wheelbarrow load's enough for me." replied the statesman as he began tucking his napkin under his chio.

She belonged to the ephemeral formis of Washington society, and went over to New York to the opera. "Maritana" was billed for that night, and after she had fixed herself in her box she picked up a libretto. "Good gracious," she exclaimed, gazing at the title.

"What is its" inquired her slarmed escort. "Why, the name of this play is 'Maria Tanner, and I used to know a girl by that same name out West long before I was married. I wonder if it can be the same one?" Her escort thought it was hardly probable,

A burglar was going through a house in Dakota town one night and discovered an exceptionally large roll of money. Curious to know whether he had broken into an editor's bouse or that of some other variety of capitalist, he turned to the owner, who had just awakened, and said:

"Excuse me, Colonel, but I would like to inquire how you came by such an unusually large wad of wealth!" "Sir," replied the moneyed man, "I am a member of the Territorial Legislature."

"A thousand pardons!" exclaimed the polite burgiar, dropping the money. "Shake, We never steal from members of the pro-fession. Good night."—[Estelline Bell.
